End of the road for Gelbaugh?

THE humiliating 41-13 defeat by arch rivals the New York/New Jersey Knights on Sunday could well be Stan Gelbaugh's last game for the London Monarchs.

The quarterback who led the Monarchs to the World League championship glory last year was pulled off at the start of the 4th quarter and later indicated that perhaps it was time for someone else to take over.

His disastrous form this season will leave few disagreeing and back-up Fred McNair, who came on and scored Monarchs' only touchdown with a 1 yard scramble, looks to be the right man for the job.

The only other highlight of Monarchs first League defeat on American soil, and their first in four meetings with the Knights, was a World League record 52 yard field goal by Phil Alexander...

With their play-off hopes now over, Monarchs have nothing but their pride to play for. This week they face a difficult match at Orlando who have the League's best record.

Other World League results: Birmingham 19, Barcelona 17; Ohio 20, Frankfurt 17; San Antonio 21, Orlando 36; Montreal 21, Sacramento 35.

This week's other games: Barcelona v San Antonio; Ohio v New York; Birmingham v Montreal; Sacramento v Frankfurt.
